Charis SIL - Design

Charis SIL is optimized for readability in long printed documents. It is highly readable and holds up well in less-than-ideal reproduction environments due to its simple and robust design with strong serifs and clear features.

Type samples showing an inventory of some of the unusual glyphs and features are available in a PDF sample: Charis SIL Type Sample. For a complete list of characters included in Charis SIL, see Character Set Support.

Note regarding Charter

This Charis SIL font is essentially the same design as the SIL Charis font first released by SIL in 1997. The design of the basic character set of Charis SIL is similar (but not identical) to Bitstream Charter, designed by Matthew Carter. The following notice accompanied the Charter fonts:
